The Grego 1960

Published by THE SENIOR CLASS
of Fremont High School
Fremont, North Carolina

Foreword

In the 1960 GREGO is set forth the story of the development of the Seniors of '60—from baby hornets in the very beginning to full-grown, graduated hornets at this, the end of twelve wonderful years. The presentation of our senior year in Fremont High School brings to a close this twelve-year drama. We flash before you glimpses of our school life, our activities, and our classes.

We wish to express our appreciation to our parents, our teachers, and our friends who have aided us thus far on our way and have made it possible for us to publish this yearbook.

Now we shall show you our school, Fremont High, from which we have gained the patience, guidance and helpful experiences that will furnish us the courage to go eagerly towards our tomorrows.

Dedicated to . . . Mom and Dad

We take pleasure in dedicating this 1960 GREGO to our parents.

"To ones who bear the sweetest names
And add a luster to the same
Who share our joys, who cheer when sad
The greatest friends we ever had
Long life to them for never another
Can take the place of our father and mother"

You have strived toward developing us into useful citizens; your wishes are that each of our lives will be dedicated to God.

You have made useful sacrifices in making our school an instrument in preparing us for leaders of tomorrow.

You took time to doctor our cuts and bruises; and you gave us words of comfort and encouragement.

Your love has never failed in all our past years and will not fail us in years to come.

May the dedication of this annual help to repay you, dear parents, for your many hours of faithful service.

Message

As you look through this, your 1960 GREGO, I hope it will bring back many happy memories. We usually remember best those things in which we excelled; therefore, as you grow older, may you have even more accomplishments to add to the memorable events of your life.

To the Senior Class, let me offer my congratulations for our yearbook. It should be a fitting climax to the long list of achievements you have made as students of the Fremont Schools.

I am sure that the faculty joins with me in wishing for each of you all the success life has to offer.

Sincerely,

Samuel G. Cole

School Song

Oh Fremont High, You are the best
Old high school in the East or West
We praise you ever, Forsake you never
For you our hearts will always sing
You stand for truth, You stand for right
You stand for fairness in the fight
Lift high your voices, Let the chorus ring
Oh Fremont High School, We love you
Love you all the while
Oh Fremont High School, We praise you
Till the last long mile
In victory or defeat, You're the school we love the best
In work or at play we know you'll stand the test!

"The glad smile may have passed from view,
The ringing voice that cheered us so
In that remembered long ago
Be stilled, and yet in sweeter ways
It speaks to us throughout our days."

Edgar A. Guest

Class History

We the class of '60, having reached the top station at the end of a long, studious, but pleasant journey, wish to look back into the past and see how we have reached our objective.

In the fall of 1948, our class enrolled at Fremont Graded School. We shall always remember that first day in school because we did not quite understand why we were there and we were frightened by our surroundings. Miss Mozingo, our first grade teacher, soon made us feel right at home. When we were promoted to the second grade, Miss Short was our teacher. We were her first students here thus making us her first graduating class of Fremont Graded School. Miss Street taught us how to write during our third year. Mrs. Mayo introduced us to the geography book in the fourth grade. As we entered the fifth grade we had a new teacher and a new book. Miss Neva Harper showed us our first history book. Mrs. Pearl Hartley taught our large, noisy bunch in the sixth grade. Miss Branch, who soon became Mrs. Barnes, really gave us the history in the seventh grade. We'll always remember her engagement ring which she flashed frequently. Mrs. Anne Yelverton worked hard during our eighth year to prepare us for high school. We'll always remember our graduating from grammar grades to high school.

The class of '60 entered high school a little jittery, but we soon became accustomed to the new routine—changing classes.

The four presidents of our class during our high school years served us well. Bonnie Cuddington was chosen to lead us during our green, green days when we first entered high school. And for our sophomore president, we chose Thomas West. Betty Hooks was our junior president; she made a good president and played on the basketball team, too. Bonnie Cuddington was elected once again our senior year.

Jojo Newsome was considered such a good leader that he was made vice-president our senior year. Linda Bradshaw, the good English student, was made secretary, and Barbara Boswell, the good typist was elected corresponding secretary. Then we chose Thomas West to be our treasurer. We had so much money to count and spend that we were careful in our choice.

Thomas West was the editor of our annual, GREGO, and Betty Hooks served as assistant editor.

Of course, we had good basketball teams, both girls and boys. The girls were county champions and runners-up in the Northern Tournament. "Bookie" Ellis and Betty Hooks were co-captains of the girls' team. Dell Yelverton was our only other senior girl on the team. "Bookie" was later elected our homecoming queen. Claire Aycock and Roy Parrish were our only senior cheerleaders. Jack Peacock, Jojo Newsome, and Billy Garris were the senior boys on the basketball team.

Before the Christmas holidays Mrs. Green, our senior sponsor, really got us into the Christmas spirit with a party. At the party the seniors exchanged gifts.

One of the happiest events of our senior year was the Junior-Senior Banquet. We were the guests of the Juniors who had the gym decorated to carry out the theme of the old South which made a lovely setting. Betty Hooks and Freddy Bogue were selected by the Juniors to be queen and king of the banquet.

The title of our senior play was THIS GHOST BUSINESS, and the cast played to a full house. The Melodaires played at intermission.

The school paper, "The Hornet," was edited by Betty Hooks. She was a very ambitious young editor, and I am sure she will leave her footprints on the sands of time.

On Monday morning, May 2, 1960, the senior class with their chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Godwin, Mrs. Boyette, Mrs. Joyner, Mrs. Garris, Mrs. Outland, Mr. Bogue, and Mrs. Green, boarded a Seashore Bus for that finally arrived trip to New York City. It is almost impossible to record the good time that we had. In fact, we could never describe it in full. We took many interesting tours, some of them lasting an entire day, but we did have some social life involved also. We saw a Broadway play, visited a night club, and saw the Rockettes at Radio City. Our time was so filled that we never realized how tired we were until we arrived back in Fremont on Saturday night—what a dead bunch! To us, the senior class, this is an experience that will be remembered forever. After arriving in the "big" city we soon forgot how hot it was tying tobacco, picking cotton, peeling potatoes, pulling corn, making cakes, and begging everybody to buy a barbecue ticket. Mr. Arthur Powers from New Bern was our bus driver.

After we returned from New York, we had many parties. The hosts and hostesses on these special occasions were Mrs. Leslie Boyette, Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Godwin, Mrs. Nathan Outland, Mr. and Mrs. Major Ivey, Mr. and Mrs. James S. Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Newsome, Mrs. David Green, and Mrs. Barnes Ellis.

In concluding this history of the class of 1960 with seventeen members, I would like to make note that this is a fine class and these seniors will likely hold responsible positions throughout the land in future years.

BONNIE CUDDINGTON
Class Historian

Last Will and Testament

We, the Senior Class of 1960 of Fremont High School, hoping not to be forgotten by our friends, desire to will and bequeath some portion of our possessions which may be of use to them.

To the young and unsophisticated Freshmen we leave a map of the school building so that they will not get lost and roam about in everybody's way looking for their classrooms.

To our good friends, the Sophomore Class, we leave our patience. It will be found useful as the only means by which they can endure the Juniors.

To the Junior Class we give, reluctantly but of necessity, our mantle of dignity. We realize that the class can never fill it but, since it is expected of them, our advice is, "Grin and wear it!."

To all the Fremont School Faculty we give and bequeath our very kindest regards and our sincere gratitude for their un-failing kindness and aid.

To the Superintendent, Mr. Cole, we give and bequeath a sense of relief that we have at last graduated.

To our sponsor, Mrs. Green, we leave many wonderful memories of the smartest, nicest, quietest, most cooperative class she has ever taught or ever will teach.

BONNIE CUDDINGTON leaves her bossy ways to next year's senior class president.

JIMMY AYCOCK leaves his musical ability to Carlton Blow and hopes that he will take his place in the Glee Club.

BILLY GARRIS leaves his ability to get along with Mr. Wainwright to Jack Lancaster so he can chew chewing gum in class next year.

"BOOKIE" ELLIS leaves her basketball honors to Thelma Benton.

SUE ELLEN AYCOCK leaves her ability in Home Economics and her Betty Crocker Award to Faye Stevenson.

FREDDY BOGUE leaves his ability to whip the senior class sponsor, Mrs. Green, to any Junior boy who is man enough to take on the job.

DELL DEE YELVERTON leaves her ability to ride a horse to Bonnie Ballance.

LINDA BRADSHAW leaves her loud and boisterous ways to Carolyn Hooks, who is so quiet that no one ever knows she is around.

BARBARA BOSWELL leaves her high typing speed to Brenda Fulkerson.

ROY PARRISH leaves his bookkeeping ability to Frances Parrish.

THOMAS WEST leaves his treasury book, a few receipts, some coin wrappers, and some blank checks to the unfortunate Junior who next becomes senior treasurer.

JOE NEWSOME leaves his love for Chrysler Corporation Cars to Bert Hayes.

JOHN MANLY PEACOCK regrets to say that he has nothing to leave. He said he needs all he has and then some.

BETTY HOOKS leaves the school newspaper, all the editorials, and the sponsor, Miss Bell, to Cynthia Wiggs, in hopes that she will have just as many headaches with them.

CLAIRE AYCOCK leaves her cheering ability to Diana Pike.

JACK PEACOCK leaves his ability to get along with redheads to Billy Yelverton.

DAVID JONES wishes he could leave his ability to come to class any time he likes and say most anything he wants to the teachers to someone, but due to the fact that the following classes have no such material, he just leaves.

In witness, we the class of 1960 and the testatrix, have our hand and seal on this 27 day of May in the year 1960.

LINDA BRADSHAW
Testatrix

Class Prophecy

Since World War III JIMMY AYCOCK received a purple heart and is now directing the Marine Corp Band.

FREDDY BOGUE enjoyed the New York trip with the Seniors so much that he applied for a job with Seashore and now he makes the trip once a week.

CLAIRE AYCOCK's New York experience had a lot of influence on her because now she is a make-up artist.

JOE NEWSOME, professor at State, has made improvement on the Einstein Theory.

SUE ELLEN AYCOCK has gotten a job with the "New York Times"-gossip column that is.

Russia thinks that they have made scientific advances, but the United States has certainly advanced too, because BILLY GARRIS is now an astronaut in a satellite.

LINDA BRADSHAW is married now and is supporting her husband by being a guide in the United Nations Building.

Since ROY PARRISH has been playing short stop for the Chicago Cubs they have won the World Series five years in a row which is really a record for them.

BARBARA BOSWELL, our class corresponding secretary, liked her job so much that she decided to continue in the work. She is now a foreign correspondent for the United States.

Since Fremont couldn't contend with JACK PEACOCK's rate of speed any longer, he decided to try Darlington. He has now set records for being one of the fastest and safest drivers.

BONNIE CUDDINGTON was such a good president for our class that she has now taken Khrushchev's place as dictator of Russia.

Since Jack Webb is growing older he needed a muscle man so he could think of none other than DAVID JONES for the job.

MARY ELLEN "BOOKIE" ELLIS has not changed much since her high school days, but now she has found happiness with her husband, fifth one that is.

THOMAS WEST has received his Ph. D. and is now teaching the second grade in New York City.

BETTY HOOKS liked boys so well that she is now the dean of students at State College.

DELL DEE YELVERTON is now working as an air line hostess for one of those jet air liners. She goes to California and back twice a day.

JOHN MANLY PEACOCK did decide to invent that tractor that the juniors said he would and now he is farming in the Shenandoah Valley on his tractor with white-wall tires, upholstered seat, plush carpeting, power steering, power brakes and automatic transmission.

In Appreciation

The advertisers in this yearbook have made it possible for the yearbook staff to present this 1960 edition of GREGO. Their constant support in the past has always been a vital factor in the promotion of our school activities, and their assured future support will make it possible for a continual march forward to educational advantages. Let's all show our appreciation by patronizing them!!
